Fund Manager Commentary

Global equity markets started the new year on a mixed note with most European and Asian markets, notably China, declining. On the other hand, markets in Japan and the US continued to move up. India continues to be one the best performing markets amongst the major ones with the benchmark MSCI India gaining 2.4% (in USD terms) in the month of January.

India is in the middle of the Q3FY24 earnings season, and the initial trends indicate strong growth for companies, driven by Government led capex spending. While exports remain weak and discretionary consumption remains a mixed bag, there is gradual improvement in the rural demand outlook.

The IT sector reported weak revenue growth, though margins were a positive surprise with companies optimizing cost structures. Results in the banking segment have largely been in line with expectations on the operating front. However higher provisions have dented bottom-line growth. In terms of the outlook, there appears to be pressure on the liability side owing to tight liquidity conditions in the financial markets and higher credit deposit ratios for most leading banks. The consumer discretionary businesses which have reported numbers thus far point towards demand pressures sustaining resulting in lower volume growth. The automobile sector continued to report faster growth on the back of higher volumes and margin tailwinds. Low-income household consumption continues to remain a challenge while high-end residential real-estate remains strong.

Amongst our portfolio companies, results of Ramkrishna Forgings Limited, TVS Motor Company Limited, Sona BLW Precision and Astral Limited were in line with our expectations while Cholamandalam Investment and Finance and Indian Oil Corporation delivered a strong set of numbers. Bajaj Finance numbers were weaker than expected due to higher provisioning as was the case with AU Small Finance Bank. For AU, the spike in provisions was largely driven by the credit card business. The credit card business is relatively new business (4% of loans) and given that the book is being built, there was upwards normalisation of credit cost. The Q3FY24 credit cost of credit card business is ~6.5%, in line with the industry average as the book attains a reasonable size and gets seasoned. APL Apollo Tubes, which is a beneficiary of infrastructure spend in the country, witnessed the impact of destocking due to volatile steel prices. However, as steel prices normalize, we should see restocking (a one-time benefit) over and above the normalized volume growth led by industry growth and market share expansion.

REC Ltd is a recent addition to the portfolio. It is majority-owned by the government and registered with the Reserve Bank of India as a Non-Banking Finance Company. REC was previously mandated to cater only to the entire power infrastructure, and new technologies within that. More recently REC has been allowed to diversify into the non-power sector (Roads & Expressways, Metro Rail, Airports) up to 30% of the loan book. A surge in power demand coupled with a lack of new capacity addition has led to lower peak utilization buffers. This has revived capex in the power sector with total lending opportunity of INR21 tr (~USD250 bn) over the next six years. We expect the company to deliver a 18% CAGR in loan book. Various measures adopted by the government to revive the health of distribution companies coupled with write backs on previously written off loans due to resolution under the IBC (Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code) process has led to sharp reduction in credit cost. Going forward, we expect credit cost to trend below long-term historical averages, and ROEs to sustain around 20% over the medium term.

We continue to focus on identifying and owning superior business models with ability to deliver compounded earnings growth over time. The portfolio currently is well positioned to benefit from the structural growth in the Indian economy and deliver superior earnings growth over the medium term.
